

HAPPY Thanksgiving

As Wyoming's State Treasurer, I wish you a Happy Thanksgiving. As I reflect back on 2017, there are many things for which I am thankful. What about you; have you reflected on your 2017?

I am thankful to live in the United States. Although we've had a challenging year with natural disasters and violence, it is still a beautiful country to call home.

I am thankful for the opportunity to work in the State Treasurer's Office. Regardless of whether the economic situation is down or up, the position of State Treasurer is equally important. Leadership is needed during all phases of our state's existence, and so I strive to do my very best each day for the citizens of Wyoming.

I am thankful for the staff in the Treasurer's Office. They are certainly a talented group of hard working people. With their commitment, creativity and high standards, this office did well in 2017, as reflected in our recent annual report.

I am thankful for the respectful relationships I have with other elected officials. Whether we agree or disagree on issues, at the end of the day, we always come together as Wyomingites do, striving to do what's best for Wyoming.

Often at the end of letters and speeches people say "God Bless America and God Bless Wyoming!" As we celebrate Thanksgiving, let's really think about that. Truly, America and Wyoming have been richly blessed.

Wishing you and your families a Happy Thanksgiving and hoping you carve out some time for yourself, to reflect and appreciate the joys of life.
