

Potential for Out-sized Returns in Infrastructure

Scott Litman, Co-Head of Infrastructure Investing, GCM Grosvenor

Mr. Litman is a member of the Real Assets Investment Committee and the Infrastructure Advantage Investment Committee. He also serves on GCM's Sustainability Committee. Mr. Litman focuses on infrastructure investments, globally, and is located in the New York office. Prior to joining GCM Grosvenor, Mr. Litman served the Co-Portfolio Manager of Infrastructure Investments at Oaktree Capital, and previously, as a Partner at Highstar Capital. Mr. Litman currently serves on the boards of Flogisitix, Rand Logistics and Health Transport Group. Previously, he served on the boards of Aerostar Airport Holdings (San Juan Airport), BlackBear Midstream (f/k/a Wildcat Midstream), Footprint Power, InterGen, N.V., Linden Cogeneration, Morongo Transmission and Ports America. Mr. Litman also serves on the Board of the Cornell Program in Infrastructure Policy. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree, cum laude with General Honors, in History and Economics from the University of Pennsylvania and his Juris Doctor from The Cornell Law School.